

In The Moment:

A Video for Facilitators of Battering Intervention and Prevention Programs

"I'm highly impressed with In The Moment. The video and discussion guide are practical, relevant, and realistic, making them excellent training tools for BIP providers. In The Moment deserves a platinum star for excellence."

"I just finished watching the video. It's really good! If the discussion guide is half as good as the video, you've got a winner on your hands!"

Susan Hartline

"In The Moment and the accompanying manual are excellent for training new facilitators, or giving experienced facilitators new tools for handling the difficult situations that come up in men's batterers groups. It inspires each group facilitator to develop a personal style that keeps in mind the mission of stopping violence against women. I highly recommend it to anyone that works in a batterer's programs."

A New Video From the Men's Nonviolence Project of The Texas Council on Family Violence

In the Moment is a training video for BIPP facilitators that helps prepare new staff for working with batterers and also sharpens the skills of those who have been at it a while. This 91-minute video consists of 13 role-played situations that commonly arise in battering intervention groups.

Each scenario is followed by a roundtable discussion among four experienced facilitators commenting on how they have approached similar situations.

A companion discussion guide corresponds with each scenario, helping the viewer to think through the various factors involved in leading a BIPP group.
