

Tools for Transformation

BIPP EDUCATIONAL SERIES:

Culture Matters Series!

This three-part, live, interactive virtual training series will take us on a deep dive through the nuances of culture, intersectionality, power and privilege. The series will begin by demonstrating how our own culture impacts the work we do in BIPP and the integral role that cultural humility plays in improving group dynamics. Through a refined lens of cultural humility, the series will expand to illustrate how intersectionality, oppression and privilege saturate belief-systems that contribute to gender-based violence; as well as pave pathways for facilitation that promote respect and positive behavioral change in cross-cultural group work.

This virtual training will consist of three, 90-minute interactive workshops. Attending all three will provide you with 4.5 BIPP TDCJ-CJAD Approved Training Hours and 4.5 LPC, LMFT, and SW CEUs.

ONE FEE FOR ALL THREE SESSIONS

SESSION ONE

WED, MAY 29, 2024

2:00 PM – 3:30 PM CT

WHY CULTURE IS IMPORTANT IN BIPP

This interactive session will center on the crucial role that culture and intersectionality play in BIPP and explore the importance of awareness of one's own culture and its impact on group members. The workshop will also identify explicit and implicit biases in an effort to improve group dynamics and share practical tools to work cross-culturally in group settings.

TDCJ-CJAD Approved Hours: 1.5 BIPP • LPC, LMFT, and SW: 1.5 CEUs

SESSION TWO

WED, JUNE 5, 2024

2:00 PM – 3:30 PM CT

THE ROLE OF OPPRESSION AND PRIVILEGE IN BIPP

This interactive session will identify key elements of cultural humility and solidarity, including the empathic understanding of oppression and intersectionality, including a power imbalance analysis. It will include a critical assessment of one's own privilege and its relevance in working with people who cause harm.

TDCJ-CJAD Approved Hours: 1.5 BIPP • LPC, LMFT, and SW: 1.5 CEUs

SESSION THREE

WED, JUNE 12, 2024

2:00 PM – 3:30 PM CT

INSTITUTIONAL ACCOUNTABILITY IN BIPP

The last session of the series will build upon the previous ones and analyze how systemic oppression is a barrier to genuine change in abusive partners. It will offer practical solutions to facilitate the process of change when working cross-culturally in BIPPs.

TDCJ-CJAD Approved Hours: 1.5 BIPP • LPC, LMFT, and SW: 1.5 CEUs
